

Alert for Animal Researchers

Anti-research terrorists have recently increased actions against some members of the UCSF community. It is particularly important that a stranger is not let in to our facilities without them producing their key card, swiping in, and getting the green light.

“Piggybacking” is when one person swipes the prox card reader with their key card to gain access to a restricted area and others enter with or behind them without swiping their cards. For example, this happens when somebody holds the door open for someone behind them.

Please be aware of this type of behavior.
