

Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology Creates FY 2009 Budget and Biomedical Research Resource Page

The Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology (FASEB) Office of Public Affairs has created a web page for updates on what is happening with the federal science budget and appropriations process as it pertains to biomedical and life science research.

<http://opa.faseb.org/pages/Advocacy/fedbudget.htm>

FASEB advances biological science through collaborative advocacy for research policies that promote scientific progress and education and lead to improvements in human health.